PRESENTS

KRIS KRISTOFFERSON

LIVE AT THE RIVER ROCK SHOW THEATRE

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 29

Richmond, BC – Kris Kristofferson has always identified himself first and foremost as a writer and true writers know that what works best is giving a piece of themselves to the listener. Kristofferson’s story is fairly well known ... he had a dream – along with the necessary talent and ambition – to become a songwriter. After turning down a teaching position at West Point, the Rhodes scholar hoped to get his foot in the door of the music business by taking a job as a janitor at Columbia Records. It wasn’t long after arriving in Nashville in 1965 that he was receiving armloads of acclaim and being hailed as one of American’s clearest and most important voices having penned such classics as “Me and Bobby McGee,” “Sunday Morning Coming Down” and “For the Good Times.”

During the span of his career, Kristofferson has been inducted into the Songwriter’s Hall of Fame and the Nashville Songwriter’s Hall of Fame, is a three-time Grammy winner, won a Best Actor Golden Globe for his role in the 1976 film, A Star Is Born, received several awards with the Highwaymen – Johnny Cash, Willie Nelson and Waylon Jennings – and the 2001 Diversity Award. In addition, he was chosen as American Veteran Association’s “Veteran of the Year” in 2006. Now Kristofferson has reached living legend status but that hasn’t changed or hindered his skills. His most recent album, Closer To The Bone was released last September. And this week, Light In The Attic Records will release Please Don’t Tell Me How The Story Ends: The Publishing Demos which features previously unreleased material including songs which were recorded during his janitorial stint. Kris Kristofferson will be performing for a one-night engagement at the River Rock Casino Resort in October.
